

IS STILL CHAMPION

James J. Jeffries Knocked Out Jim Corbett in Tenth Round at San Francisco.

TERRIFIC SWING ON THE STOMACH

The Fight Demonstrated Beyond All Doubt That the Winner Stands Alone in His Class.

The Few Blows Corbett Landed on the Giant Were Apparently Without Sting and He Was Outpointed From the First.

San Francisco, Aug. 15.—Ten thousand men were seated in the arena in Mechanics' pavilion at 9 o'clock Friday night, representing an expenditure for seating accommodations aggregating $54,000. This is the largest crowd that ever assembled at a ringside in this country, and the third largest sum in dollars and cents ever contested for. The two that exceeded it in receipts were the Corbett-Jeffries fight at Coney Island, $66,000, and the Corbett-McCoy fight at Madison Square garden, New York, $63,000.

James J. Jeffries, champion heavyweight of the world, played with Jim Corbett for nine rounds and a half Friday night and then Corbett's seconds motioned to Referee Graney to stop the fight in order to save their man from needless punishment. The end came shortly after the beginning of the tenth round when Jeffries planted one of his terrific left swings on Corbett's stomach. The man who conquered John L. Sullivan dropped to the floor in agony and the memorable scene at Carson City, when Bob Fitzsimmons landed his solar plexus blow was almost duplicated. This time, however, Corbett struggled to his feet and again faced his gigantic adversary. With hardly a moment's hesitation Jeffries swung his right and again landed on Corbett's stomach. Jim dropped to the floor and then it was that Tommy Ryan, seeing that it was all over, motioned to Referee Graney to stop the punishment.

Improvement in Speed and Skill.

The fight Friday night demonstrated beyond all doubt that Jeffries stands alone in his class. He showed remarkable improvement in both speed and skill. Corbett, during the first part of the fight, was almost outpointed, and the few blows that he landed on Jeffries were apparently without sting. Jeffries was never in better condition. He looked lighter than usual and the way he moved about on his feet and the frequency with which he countered Corbett's leads astonished everybody. Corbett, in comparison with the big man opposed to him, looked very light, but was really heavier than ever before. He appeared to have lost some of his old time speed and skill during the early part of the fight, but this may have been due to Jeffries' marvelous improvement. Corbett's physical condition appeared to be all that he had claimed for it. He stood many of Jeffries' terrific blows without wincing and came back swinging left and right and landing frequently, but his blows hardly stung Jeffries. Jeffries was not only stronger, faster and cleverer than ever before, but he used his head to better purpose and although Corbett would hit him hard enough to hurt an ordinary man, Jeffries would bore right in without noticing the blows and would deliver telling hits that materially helped in deciding the result of the fight.

AFTER THE BATTLE.

Corbett Shook the Champion Warmly By the Hand.

After the fight was over Corbett quickly recovered, walked over to Jeffries and shook him warmly by the hand. He said: "Jim, you beat me fairly. You stand alone. No one can touch you."

Timekeeper George Harting stated that the blows that won the fight were a left to the stomach followed by a right to the same place as soon as Corbett arose to his feet after taking the count of nine. "It was the best fight Jeffries ever made and astonished even those who had placed implicit faith in his ability to win," said Harting.

During the fight Corbett talked continuously to Jeffries and to the referee. He was game to the end and whenever Jeffries landed a blow would make a jesting remark. In the sixth round during a clinch just after Jeffries had punished him severely he remarked to the referee: "Watch him, Eddie, he's trying to knock me out."

He also said: "He can't knock me out; go ahead, and try it." Jeffries only grinned and waded into his man all the harder.

Corbett's system of training was undoubtedly beneficial to him from a physical point of view, but it apparently detracted from his speed. He did not keep away from Jeffries in the manner that was anticipated but kept up close, clinching at every opportunity. He also did some clever ducking, thereby avoiding deadly blows, but all his cleverness was of no avail. He fought his fight, and when the time came Jeffries delivered the necessary blows and installed more firmly than ever on his pedestal as champion heavyweight pugilist of the world.

Not a Physical Wreck.

Jeffries said after the fight: "My fight to-night will demonstrate to the public that I am a better man than ever I was, and gives the lie to the reports which have been circulated in some quarters that I am a physical wreck, through drink and other dissipation. I trained faithfully for this fight and the result shows that I am the natural champion. I outboxed Corbett in every round and carried the fight to him at every stage of the game. I must say, however, that Corbett put up a better fight than I thought he would. His punches had no steam, and when they did land, which was not often, they did not faze me. At no time was I distressed and I felt confident of winning from the first. I would have put him out in the fourth if my glove had not busted."

THE POWERS TRIAL.

Henry Youtsey Was on the Stand For Five Hours Friday.

Georgetown, Ky., Aug. 15.—For five hours Friday the convict, Henry Youtsey underwent a very trying and vigorous cross-examination as to his participation in the conspiracy which, he says, resulted in the assassination of William Goebel. For all of that he maintained the calm demeanor that the people of Scott county can not understand in him after the sensations he furnished them two years ago when he was himself on trial here and "threw a fit" in the court room to keep from going on the witness stand, and to excite sympathy in the minds of the jurors trying him. When he told them Friday, in response to questions of the defense attorneys, that he had faked them, he did so with a smile on his face and some embarrassment, causing a general laugh among the hundreds, mainly women, who had assembled to hear him.

Judge Robbins held the counsel for the defendant down to a systematic cross-examination, and at one point fined the attorney interrogating for violation of the rule he had laid down. The defense scored several points on the witness, mainly as to conflicting stories told by him before his arrest and trial. He admitted frankly that he lied frequently at the time to confuse the detectives and lawyers employed by the Goebel brothers. His most important bit of evidence, that as to the written agreement had with Caleb Powers regarding the affidavit of Powers' innocence, the truth or falsity of which was waived, was ignored by Powers' attorneys in their cross-examination, and stands uncontradicted.

BOTH CONVICTED.

Jury Sentenced Curt Jett and Tom White to the Penitentiary For Life.

MOTION FOR A NEW TRIAL MADE.

The Application Will Be Argued by the Attorneys Before Judge Osborne Saturday Morning.

The Prosecution May Not Oppose the Motion as to Jett, as They Think They Have Enough Evidence to Convict.

Cynthiana, Ky., Aug. 15.—Curt Jett and Tom White, the Jackson feudists, were both found guilty of the Marcum assassination by the jury Friday and sentenced to life terms in the penitentiary.

White flushed as the jurors handed the verdict to the judge and tears came into his eyes and the blood seemed to leave his face as he heard the fateful words. Jett, with clinched jaws, listened to the sentence and still tried to keep up his air of braggadocio.

The defense filed grounds and motion for a new trial at 11 o'clock Friday morning and Judge Osborne set 8:30 o'clock Saturday morning for the hearing of the motion. The motion and grounds consist entirely of objections to the evidence ruled in by the court, and the attempted introduction of evidence by the defense, and which was ruled out, and also to certain affidavits made by the defendants saying that a fair and impartial trial could not be had here on account of military display being made which inflamed the public mind so that a fair trial could not be had. It is almost certain that the judge will overrule the motion for this new trial.

The Jim Cockerill Murder.

The attorneys for the prosecution were in consultation all Friday afternoon as to whether or not they will oppose the motion as to Jett, as they say if they can get a new trial in this case they will have enough evidence in the case at the next trial to convict him. However, Prosecuting Attorney Byrd said that if they concluded to oppose the new trial, that at the next term of the Harrison circuit court before Judge Osborne, which begins three weeks from Monday, they will put forward the case of the commonwealth against Curtiss Jett, one of the defendants, for the murder of Jim Cockerill, to which murder there were some six eye witnesses, thereby succeeding in hanging Jett, which has been the ultimate aim of the prosecution in the case just tried.

CHARGES AGAINST A JUROR.

Claimed He Attempted to Influence His Fellow Jurors.

The main features in the case at bar Friday have been the charges against Juror Jasper King, who lives in this city, and who was until two years ago a deputy sheriff of the county and a man who has been highly esteemed. Jurors McNeese, Northcutt and Tate all said Friday morning that King did attempt to influence them to decide for Jett and White in this case by saying that there was nothing against the defendants. Judge Osborne, in his admonition to the jury, told them not to talk about this case among each other until it was finally given to them to decide. This seems, and it is said by attorneys here, to be contempt of court, and though Judge Osborne has not taken cognizance of this yet, County Prosecuting Attorney Webster stated Friday afternoon that he would bring this matter to the court's attention Saturday.

Prisoners Guarded by Soldiers.

The prisoners are still at the jail and guarded by soldiers in relay of tens. When asked by newspaper men Friday afternoon as to what they had to say about their verdict, Jett, with an oath, said the newspaper men had not said a kind word about him since the trial and that was all he would say about his case.

No movements have been made as yet as to the soldiers and Col. Williams, the officer in command of the situation, said Friday afternoon that no movements as to the soldiers were yet decided on and would not be decided on until Saturday after the grounds and motion for a new trial had been passed on by the court and that the matter of the movements of the soldiers were in the hands of himself and Judge Osborne.

Powers may be relied on to go up higher this time.

The trouble is that Youtsey knows a great deal too much about the assassins of Governor Goebel to suit Republicans.

It looks like Youtsey ought to know more about that assassination business than the editors of some Republican newspapers who are abusing him so roundly.

"Lynchings in the South" will not be so popular as campaign matter with Republicans, now that they have become such common everyday affairs in the North and West.

It's likely there isn't a man in the United States, who is capable at all of weighing evidence, but believes that Caleb Powers, Fugitive Taylor had as much to do with the assassination of Wm. Goebel as any one in the hellish plot, with the exception possibly of the brutal ruffian who fired the shot.

Hard Up For Heroes. [Bryau's Commoner.]

The Kentucky Republican convention cheered the name of ex-Governor Taylor. But Taylor was not present to bow his thanks. He is still in Indiana because the Republican Governor of that State will not honor a requisition from the Governor of Kentucky for the return of Taylor on the charge of being an accomplice in the murder of Governor Goebel. The Republican party is evidently hard up for heroes when it makes them out of Taylor material.

Rumor About the Bridging of the Ohio at This Point Not Groundless.

[Georgetown (O.) News-Democrat.]
 A dispatch from Maysville states that a rumor is current in that place, which is claimed to be reliable, that the L. and N. has at last decided to bridge the Ohio river between Aberdeen and Maysville and extend their line to Columbus. This report only strengthens the statement of parties in position to know, that the O. R. and C. road will be, in a few years, a part of the great L. and N. system. In consultation with one of the promoters, we learned that the above rumor was not groundless. The bridge will not be built immediately, but everything indicates that work will be commenced on it during the next few years. Full line light weight hats for the fair; also all the latest in veiling at Mrs. M. ARCHDEACON'S. Armour's canned meats—Calhoun's.

She was about to become a mother at the time, and the brutal assault caused the premature birth of her child. After the child was born, its skull was found crushed, and Gaskins is charged with causing the death of the infant.

Prices are $3.75 to $10 for skirts that cost $5 to $12.4.

A CITIZEN DISCUSSES

A Vital Question—Fraught With Interest to Maysville People.

When a citizen right here at home makes a public statement like the following, all room for doubt disappears and the most skeptical must be convinced. It's pretty hard for our readers to prove a statement made by a stranger living in some far-away point of the union, but the endorsement of neighbors, friends and citizens is the best of proof; no better evidence can be had:

Mr. P. Gantley, grocer of 314 East Fourth street, says: "The prompt and thorough relief from backache given by Doan's Kidney Pills is the strongest endorsement possible. When backache is caused by the lack of proper action of the kidneys the only reason for continuing to suffer is the want of knowledge of Doan's Kidney Pills. I procured them at J. Jas. Wood & Son's drug store, West Second and Market streets."
